

PARTS OF AN ANGLE

An angle is each part of a plane limited by two rays having a common origin.

The vertex of an angle is the common point from which the two rays forming the angle originate.

The sides of an angle are the two rays that form the angle.

The measurement of an angle is given the name size and is expressed in degrees.